SALVAGERS NEAR THE END OF THE EGYPT'S GOLD

With the salvaging of another $10,000 of gold from the sunken liner Egypt, the salvage ship "Arrigo" is believed to have recovered nearly the whole of the treasure. For years the salvagers have been working hard to recover the gold bullion, but it has been a most difficult task, because of the depth at which the liner sank in the English Channel. The success of the work has been largely due to the use of the suction apparatus, which has been specially designed for deep salvage operations. At the left is a view of the suction cylinder being emptied on board the Arrigo, while the picture at the right shows the end of the instrument.

PEACEFUL DANES CLIP DOVE'S WINGS AND FORTIFY AGAINST NAZIS

Despite all the Reichsführer Adolf Hitler's armadas to the world that Nazi Germany is peace-loving to the last swastika-decorated storm trooper, Denmark, its tiny peninsular neighbor to the north, is clipping its own dove's wings as a safety-first precaution. For almost a century the Danes have been a peaceful people, but with a tempest brewing on the other side of the Schleswig border, where Germans are demanding the return of the island kingdom to the old German Jutland and the other Schleswig territory which Bismarck and Prussia seized in 1864 and demanding that the Danes, who have been so good to us, has decided to be prepared for emergencies. Premier Stauning refused to be stampeded but is firmly resolved that no Nazis are going to march across his country to the gates of Denmark. Military police have marched into South Jutland to put up a stiff resistance at any Nazi encroachment. A number of first-class fighting planes are ready to fill the Schleswig skies in any event. But despite these war-like measures, the island kingdom, with its seven-foot monarch, Christian X, is expected in the main to continue to depend for security on its tradition of peace and the influence of its mighty patron, England.
